Softer Color produces colors for years for industrial use. Our colors are particularly requested by the industrial wax factories, which use them for the coloring of decorative candles, votive and liturgical. Nevertheless, there are also requests from small artisan producers specialized in the production of wax objects that are then sold mainly at local markets or for special events (such as the Christmas markets that take place in numerous cities ). You can always count on high-quality concentrated dyes and an endless variety of colors, the merits of continuous controls and investment in research and development that are particularly proud of our reality.
